

Kick-ass training for managers & leaders

Want to drive performance? Of course you do.

That means managers who make sure stuff gets done and leaders who don't get caught up in the weeds. Our two programmes help them do just that.

Manage with Confidence

Make the move from individual contributor to manager with confidence. We'll look at the fab fundamentals that set you and your team up for success including how to motivate and coach plus how to give feedback that actually lands. Great for first-time managers at all levels or those needing a refresher.

£6,995* up to 12 participants

Lift Your Head Up to Lead

Step back from the day-to-day and shift your attention to the broader strategic landscape. We'll look at how to create space to elevate your perspective and focus on the bigger picture, whilst being agile enough to respond to operational needs. Great for managers of managers and leaders needing to raise their impact.
